Swinescaife Quarry

(i)The Parish Council received information on possible future proposals for Swinescaife Quarry and Landfill Site. The Meeting was closed at 7:15p.m for Mr D. Watts (Land Owner) and Mr P. Taylor (Waste Management, Planning & Environmental Consultants) to provide details of the current possibly proposals:

Background

A Planning Application for landfilling inert waste was submitted in March 1992 to run in Conjunction with the Permitted extraction of chalk from Swinescaife, to achieve the Restoration of the site to woodland. Revenue from the landfill operation was perceived as a means of economic support to subsidise the relatively low unit value of the mineral Extraction operation.

Since the introduction of Landfill Tax in 1996 and the adoption of the EU Landfill Directive in 1999 specifying stringent operational and technical requirements for the construction and operation of landfill sites, the value of this potential subsidy has been significantly eroded.

We understand that the production of minerals from the Quarry has declined in recent years due to the general economic downturn and competition from other sites and currently, in order to minimise operational costs, the Quarry can only be operated on a campaign basis. This situation has been exploited by organised groups of off-road motorcyclists and other trespassers, repeatedly removing barriers, signage, felling trees etc. to gain access to the site.

Noise from these activities has developed into a significant noise nuisance to local residents. The Landowner is also seriously concerned for the safety of the individuals involved and their impact on the amenity of the local area. The situation is the subject of numerous complaints to the Parish Council and is regularly reported to East Riding of Yorkshire's Environmental Health Department and Anti-social Behaviour Unit. The restoration of the Quarry to woodland is seen as being the most advantageous long-term solution to this problem: by denying trespassers the space to operate their motorcycles, the site would become unattractive and hence noise nuisance would cease.

The Proposal

In order to attract the required volume of fill material necessary to complete the profile of the restoration within a reasonable timeframe, it is necessary to broaden the appeal of the landfill. My Client believes this could be achieved by extending the Permitted range of waste types beyond the inert waste types currently Permitted.

It is therefore proposed to apply for a variation to the existing Planning Permission to accommodate an additional waste stream that has a higher 'value' than inert materials and for which a larger market exists. These are wastes that are soil-like in appearance but contain small plastic fragments and/or organic materials such as wood fibre that prevent them from being described as strictly inert. They are mostly composed of minerals, e.g. sand, soil and stones and arise as a residue from the physical treatment of waste. It is not considered necessary to extend the range to include waste types that biodegrade readily (producing odour) or to those that would be attractive to vermin or pests.

A variation to the existing Environmental Permit issued by the Environment Agency would also be required to accommodate the change in waste types.

Varying the Planning Permission is subject to approval of the Waste Planning Authority and the application would take several weeks to prepare and submit. Should approval be forthcoming, it is likely that the process of determining the Environmental Permit variation application would take several months to complete before any new waste types could be accepted. In the interim, the Landowner acknowledges that the site could still be dormant on occasion and that accordingly, the problem with trespassers may well persist.

To mitigate the effects of the delay and to demonstrate commitment to overcoming the nuisance being caused to the local community, should Parish Councillors indicate their support for the above proposal, it is suggested that a security guard be stationed at the site in a temporary cabin for the duration of the application/determination period. The individual's role would be to deter trespassers by reporting any such incidents to the landowner and the local Police. It was indicated at the site meeting that it would assist the Police and Anti-social Behaviour Officers if vehicle registration numbers and where possible names of individual trespassers could be collected and passed on to the relevant Authority.

Community Engagement

The abovementioned meeting agreed that if possible, the Landowner and representatives from the prospective purchaser's organisation should be invited to attend the next Parish Council Meeting to explain the details of their proposal and to respond to any questions arising. Should such an invitation be extended, my colleagues and I would be delighted to attend.

The Parish Council noted the information and advised any further comment would be made upon receipt of a formal Planning Application
